

ABOUT US

The Center for Computer-Assisted Legal Instruction (CALI) is a 501(c)(3) consortium of law schools. Over 200 US law schools are members.

CALI conducts applied research and development in computer-mediated legal education, publishes open casebooks and develops software and services for legal education and access to justice.

OUR MISSION

CALI advances global legal education through computer technology, employs research, collaboration, and leadership to assist a diverse audience in the effective use of this technology in legal education, and promotes access to justice through the use of computer technology.

CALI Lessons

www.cali.org/lessons

CALI Lessons are interactive tutorials written by law faculty and constantly kept up to date. They can be used to study or test student knowledge. The material is rigorous, but short, taking 20-40 minutes to complete each lesson.

- Over 1,000 CALI lessons and more added every year
- Coverage includes 40 different legal subject areas
- Used over half a million times each year by tens of thousands of law students

CALI LessonLink

www.cali.org/lessonlink

LessonLink is a service that law faculty can use to create a unique URL for a CALI lesson that allows the instructor to track the students' scores and usage down to the individual question. Faculty can edit CALI lessons to suit their specific needs.

CALI Author™

www.cali.org/caliauthor

CALI Author™ powers CALI lessons and is free to use by law faculty and law students. With CALI Author, you can create your own CALI-like Lessons and make them available to law students. CALI Author has multiple page types for different interactions. Lessons can run on mobile devices and lesson flow can branch and loop all under author control.

eLangdell® Press

www.elangdell.cali.org

CALI's eLangdell® Press publishes free casebooks, supplements and book chapter authored by law faculty. All are available under a Creative Commons license so that faculty and students can use and remix the materials to suit their educational needs. The books are published in Microsoft Word, PDF, Kindle and iPad formats for maximum flexibility and you can purchase paper bound versions - at cost - from our print-on-demand partner.

CALI Excellence for the Future Awards®

www.cali.org/awards

The CALI Excellence for the Future Award is given to the top scoring student in each course at a law school as determined by the instructor. CALI Award winners receive a paper certificate, suitable for framing and a permanent URL / VirtualAward that students can link to from resumes, CVs, biographies and social media accounts.

InstaPoll

www.cali.org/instapoll

Instapoll is a mobile friendly, web-based tool that faculty can use to poll students in the classroom without the use of hardware clickers or downloaded software. The instructor calls out the question, starts the poll and students go to the Instapoll website, key in the poll number and respond. No login is needed.

Conferences & Webinars

www.cali.org/CALI-Conference

CALI's CALIcon has been held for 26 years where faculty, law librarians, tech staff and educational technologists gather to share ideas, experience and expertise. The conference is always held at a newly constructed law school. CALI regularly conducts webinars on educational technology topics like the very popular Topic in Digital Law Practice series for law faculty.

Classcaster®

www.classcaster.net

Classcaster® is CALI's blogging and podcasting solution for law faculty who don't want commercial advertising on their course websites. Faculty who register at the CALI website can create a website for their courses, scholarship or podcasts.

A2J Author®

www.a2jauthor.org

A2J Author® is a cloud based software tool that delivers greater access to justice for self-represented litigants by enabling non-technical authors from the courts, clerk's offices, legal services organizations, and law schools to build user-friendly automated court forms and legal processes.
